A 25th Anniversary Screening

It's Time to Shine the Light

On Easter Sunday, April 11, 1993, one of the deadliest prison riots in US history began. It lasted 11 days.

When it ended, 9 inmates and 1 hostage officer were dead. Twenty-five years later many of those convicted for their involvement are still incarcerated and 5 are on death row, and to this day a shadow still covers those events.

The Shadow of Lucasville revisits the 1993 uprising at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility, one of the longest in US history. The documentary by filmmaker DJones also explores the prisoners' struggle for human rights and their fight for media access in response to mass incarceration and dehumanization.
